

Hello Physical Science Students,

I am reaching out again by email with some reminders and information that I hope will clarify a few things. Hopefully, this will lessen the anxiety some of you are feeling about your virtual classes. Keep in mind, this is brand new for all of us and we are all learning it as we go. I know there have been some computer and technical issues many of you are dealing with. Thank you for all the emails letting me know. I have a Google Form on Google Classroom you need to fill out by 1:00 pm each Friday to communicate computer issues, problems with PLP, and just to update me on your progress for the week.

I added a "Virtual Students" tab to my classroom website to assist you in finding important information in one location.

CMCSS offers Live Assistance for troubleshooting your computer:

Phone number: (931) 920-7779

The virtual meetings we have are NOT mandatory, but I would highly recommend you join me if you need assistance or have questions. If you cannot attend them, it will not affect your grade. I realize many of you have two or even three classes scheduled during the same time. The purpose of the virtual meetings is for me to have set "office hours" to provide help, answer questions, etc. Check the "Daily Expectations" to see what we will be concentrating on but come with any questions you have!

The times I will be holding Office Hours are as follows:

4th period:

Tuesdays and Thursdays: 10:00 – 11:00

Meeting ID: 819 9096 9526

Passcode: 1rsgA4

Please make sure you have joined Google Classroom and it is the correct class period! If you have joined the wrong period you need to join the correct one! I will be deleting you from the other one! There is very important information on there and additional assignments are posted that supplement Schools PLP! I don't want you to have zeros because you didn't join!

5th period Google Classroom Code: itqa7n6
